1. Introduction: The Geography Department of Bhimrao Pradhan College of Arts, Science, and Commerce, Shahapur, organized a field visit to Siddhagad Taluka in Murbad. The objective of the visit was to provide students with practical exposure to the geographical aspects of the region and enhance their understanding of the local environment.
2. Objectives: a. To acquaint students with the geographical features, terrain, and natural resources of Siddhagad Taluka. b. To provide students with hands-on experience in studying the soil, vegetation, and other environmental aspects of the region. c. To enable students to apply theoretical concepts learned in the classroom to real-world geographical settings. d. To promote fieldwork skills, data collection, and analysis among the students.
3. Participants:
 - a. Faculty Members:

Asst. Prof. Pandit Kochewad (Field Visit Coordinator)
 - b. Students from the Geography Department
4. Activities:
 - a. Arrival and Orientation:
 - The visit commenced at 12.30 pm as the students and faculty members arrived at Siddhagad Taluka in Murbad.
 - The students were given a brief orientation about the objectives and activities planned for the field visit.
 - b. Exploration and Data Collection:
 - The students were divided into smaller groups, each accompanied by a faculty member, to explore different areas of Siddhagad Taluka.
 - The groups conducted field surveys, studying the topography, soil composition, vegetation, and other environmental factors of the region.
 - They also engaged in discussions, sharing their insights and observations with their group members and faculty guides.
 - c. Interaction with Local Experts:
 - As part of the visit, the students had the opportunity to interact with local experts and residents of Siddhagad Taluka.
 - The experts provided valuable information about the geography, culture, and unique features of the region, enriching the students' understanding.
5. Conclusion: The field visit to Siddhagad Taluka proved to be an educational and enriching experience for the students of the Geography Department. It allowed them to apply theoretical knowledge to real-world settings, enhancing their practical understanding of geographical concepts. The hands-on exploration and data collection activities enabled the students to develop fieldwork skills and analytical capabilities. The interactions with local experts provided valuable insights into the unique geographical features and cultural aspects of Siddhagad Taluka.

6. Acknowledgments: The Geography Department extends its sincere appreciation to Prof. Pandit Kochewad for coordinating and overseeing the field visit. Special thanks to the administration committee of Bhimrao Pradhan College and the college principal for their support and cooperation in organizing this educational excursion.
